

IN PASTOR

Police Brute Met Match in Dominie While Amuck.

Special Officer John Moran, forty-four years old, of 213 East One Hundred and Twenty-second street, detained at Sullivan's Harlem River Park, was held in the hall for intoxication in the Harlem Police Court before Magistrate Zeller this morning. The complaint was made by his wife, Jennie.

It was shown that the charge was a cover for a more serious charge of assault, which would have been made but for the solicitation of his wife, who promised the other complainant to press a charge of intoxication.

Last night Moran was grossly intoxicated and started down Second Avenue, driving people off the sidewalk and trying to hit them with his bill.

At One Hundred and Seventeenth street, Rev. Henry J. Stupp, pastor of the German Lutheran Church, on One Hundred and Nineteenth street, near Third Avenue, was met on the way to church.

Moran shouted at him: "Get off the earth and—quick."

Mr. Stupp refused and Moran struck him several times with his club.

The minister, who is an athlete, managed to reach his club and was about to take the intoxicated policeman to the station-house, when Police Officer One Hundred and Twenty-sixth street, who was on duty at the station, was in turn made a report to Chief Devery.

FORGERY HINTS IN CAYNOR CASE.

Prosecution in Closing Brings Up Capt. Carter's Affairs.

The hearing in the proceedings to secure the removal of John F. Carter and E. H. Gaynor and Benjamin D. Deane, accused of conspiracy to defraud the Government in connection with ex-Capt. Oberlin M. Carter in Savannah harbor improvements, was continued before United States Commissioner Shreve this morning.

J. W. O. Sterry, chief clerk in the Government Engineer's office, called to the stand, was shown a letter concerning changes in 1897 in work contracted for and completed in 1898, involving $50,000.

Deputy Attorney Edwin, after announcing that he would close his side of the case today, endeavored to show that the names of the two bondsmen on the contract papers were forged by Capt. Carter's confidential clerk, Michael A. Connolly.

Contracts for work awarded by Capt. Carter in 1898 were identified by the witness and tendered in evidence. Another effort was made to show that the names of the two men were forged by Connolly, but the witness testified that the box had been opened before and the contents were identified by the witness.

The list of contents was identified by the witness. It showed a large number of checks for personal expenses. A list of checks showing Capt. Carter's relations in Savannah was then referred to. When it was unfolded and placed before the witness it was as long and voluminous that two men were required to arrange and hold up the big roll.

STORM CAUSED CAR RUNAWAY.

Lightning Disarranged Gear and Collision Ended Flight.

One of the big forty-foot trolley cars of the Amsterdam Avenue line became unmanageable in the thunderstorm yesterday afternoon and serious results were narrowly escaped.

The car got beyond the motorman's control at One Hundred and Thirty-eighth street on a downtown trip. It is supposed all the electrical contrivances were shorted by the storm. There were about twenty passengers in the car.

It was seen that the car was running away the passengers rushed for the doors. Only the coolness of a couple of men and the conductor prevented a disaster.

TO DEFEAT M'KINLEY.

Anti-Imperialists Gathering at the Indianapolis Convention.

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 12.—Delegates and visitors to the two anti-imperialist conventions which are to meet here this week are arriving to-day. The number is not great, but it is believed that more will come to-morrow.

The first arrival of the National party is the Robert A. Widemann, of New York. The hope of the promoters of the National party is to form coalition with the anti-imperialist league either formally or in effect.

Mr. Widemann says there are three courses open to the anti-imperialists, namely, to maintain a third ticket; to endorse Bryan, or to do neither, and merely work to defeat McKinley.

He says that Bryan is regarded by anti-imperialists as the less dangerous of the two old party candidates.

The first session of the National party will be held in the assembly room of the Commercial club to-morrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. It will be a preliminary meeting.

Wednesday morning the convention will probably take up the subject of nominating a third ticket.

Louis H. Burck, of Colorado, who reached the city today, will be president of the convention. Isaac H. Klein, of New York, will be secretary.

ROOSEVELT TO GO TO CANTON.

To Visit McKinley Before Stumping the West in September.

Gov. Roosevelt completed the plans for his itinerary to-day, which was the most important move after his declaration that Mayor Van Wyck must explain his connection with the Ice Trust. He will go West about Sept. 1, and be some time in the middle of October, which fact will interfere with his presence at the New York State Fair.

The Rough Rider chief wishes to consult with the President before he starts on the tour, so will leave this city in time to make a short visit to Canton without interfering with his duties. These will soon be announced by the National Committee.

Referring to the Gardner case the Governor said:

Attorney-General Davies want a hearing in the matter and I will consult with Judge Coyne and make known in a day or two whether I shall have a hearing at which counsel on both sides shall attend and whether I shall ask Mr. Undermyer, counsel for District Attorney Gardner, to submit a brief. My ultimate decision therefore will be delayed a week.

Prior to the arrival of Attorney-General Davies at 12 o'clock the Governor held his conference with Senator Hanna, at which the itinerary was fixed. Among those who visited him at headquarters were ex-Judge James A. Wadsworth, of San Francisco, who promised that California would give the ticket 20,000 majority, and a party of women school teachers from Kansas, Massachusetts and Louisiana, who discussed educational matters with the Governor.

The international group gained slightly despite the reaction in London. Brooklyn Rapid Transit was also in good demand at the start, and eventually reached a full point above Saturday, while Manhattan advanced over half a point.

Chicago & Northwest continued its recent upward movement, climbing another point.

The first transaction in National Lead pf. recorded an advance of 1/2 cent above Saturday's final quotation.

The engagement of $5,000,000 gold for export to-morrow invited general speculation, which was most active in sugar, tobacco and Brooklyn Transit. When offerings ceased the market became semi-stagnant, but with inclination to garden. Lead preferred jumped 3/4 and Rubber rose 1/2. Bonds were dull and firm.

Reports of beneficial rains in the corn belt caused a demand for the Grangers, which lifted Northwest 2 1/2 and the others a point each. Selling was checked, close to the start, and eventually reached a full point above Saturday, while Manhattan advanced over half a point.

MABEL BOUTON MAD; TWICE TRIED TO DIE.

Pretty Little Actress, the Bosom Friend of Della Fox, Succumbs at Last to the Pace That Kills.

Believes Man She Loves Is Dead and that Her Enemies Are Trying to Kill Her—in Bellevue.

In the insane ward in Bellevue, peopled with fantastic shapes of her own conjuring—perhaps the last scene in her life drama—Mabel Bouton, the most beautiful of three sisters, born to the stage, who came out of the West to conquer fortune in the East and in foreign lands.

The bosom friend of Della Fox, like the little golden-haired comedienne she believed that she was being killed. The delusion that tortures her, moving her to tears and frantic anguish, is that the man she loves is dead, by the design of her enemies, who are conspiring to take her life.

She has twice attempted suicide, but was prevented by the watchfulness of the nurses in the Presbyterian Hospital. "He is dead," she cried. "Why should I live? Those friends who are ever following me will kill me sooner or later. Oh, how they haunt me! Everywhere I turn I can see their eyes glaring at me."

Mabel Bouton is one of the dolls that are wrecked in the playroom of life. She is slender, supple and graceful and her dancing had all the charm of a Pyrrhic game. Her eyes, now filled with wild terror, were large and expressive, and have done much to destroy the peace of mind of many a susceptible man.

Her story is one of romance, of love, of wine and pleasure. And the moral is strongly painted by the implacable fate which is the final reckoner in all such cases.

The home of the Bouton family is in Reno, Nev. Madeline, the eldest, had often heard her father tell how they were descendants from the elder Bouton, and she was fired with ambition to achieve honors on the stage. She had beauty, intelligence, and soon found that the life of a successful actress must be one of constant study and application. She succeeded. She recently became the wife of Baron Guido Nimsch and is now at the estate in Germany.

When Madeline found that she was getting along so well she went for her sister Clara, who got a position on the stage. She married a boxer and I dropped out of professional life.

Then Mabel went on the stage—Mabel, the baby, Mabel, the doll, fresh from a convent, whose existence had gone long among the calm shadows of life. She was an immediate hit.

Among the pretty girls at the Casino she was declared the prettiest. She had suitors by the score. One suggests seemed endless. It was a world of delight for the doll, who, foolish little thing, never dreamed that from all of this sweet must be distilled a tragic bitter.

You may recall her as she danced in "Little Christopher." She had all of the seductiveness and fire of Salome, mingled with a modern dashiness that made her irresistible. Old men and young alike raved over her. And the wine supplies went merrily on.

Then love came in, and with love's coming was the shadow of a tragedy. The actress went to the Casino two months ago. The pace had told on her and she needed rest. But this she did not get. Mountain air cannot cure a troubled heart and brain. She returned to the city on July 20.

She was removed to the Presbyterian Hospital and placed in a private ward. She did not mend. Twice she tried to leap from the window of the room. Her sister, who appeared and advised her removal to Bellevue and thither she was taken last night.

She had drunk the cup of pleasure to the dregs. And only twenty-two.

MISS MABEL BOUTON.
(From Recent Photograph by Rockwood.)

favor with the leading managers. She realized that the life of a successful actress must be one of constant study and application. She succeeded. She recently became the wife of Baron Guido Nimsch and is now at the estate in Germany.

When Madeline found that she was getting along so well she went for her sister Clara, who got a position on the stage. She married a boxer and I dropped out of professional life.

Then Mabel went on the stage—Mabel, the baby, Mabel, the doll, fresh from a convent, whose existence had gone long among the calm shadows of life. She was an immediate hit.

Among the pretty girls at the Casino she was declared the prettiest. She had suitors by the score. One suggests seemed endless. It was a world of delight for the doll, who, foolish little thing, never dreamed that from all of this sweet must be distilled a tragic bitter.

You may recall her as she danced in "Little Christopher." She had all of the seductiveness and fire of Salome, mingled with a modern dashiness that made her irresistible. Old men and young alike raved over her. And the wine supplies went merrily on.

Then love came in, and with love's coming was the shadow of a tragedy. The actress went to the Casino two months ago. The pace had told on her and she needed rest. But this she did not get. Mountain air cannot cure a troubled heart and brain. She returned to the city on July 20.

She was removed to the Presbyterian Hospital and placed in a private ward. She did not mend. Twice she tried to leap from the window of the room. Her sister, who appeared and advised her removal to Bellevue and thither she was taken last night.

She had drunk the cup of pleasure to the dregs. And only twenty-two.

She was removed to the Presbyterian Hospital and placed in a private ward. She did not mend. Twice she tried to leap from the window of the room. Her sister, who appeared and advised her removal to Bellevue and thither she was taken last night.

She had drunk the cup of pleasure to the dregs. And only twenty-two.

She was removed to the Presbyterian Hospital and placed in a private ward. She did not mend. Twice she tried to leap from the window of the room. Her sister, who appeared and advised her removal to Bellevue and thither she was taken last night.

She had drunk the cup of pleasure to the dregs. And only twenty-two.

She was removed to the Presbyterian Hospital and placed in a private ward. She did not mend. Twice she tried to leap from the window of the room. Her sister, who appeared and advised her removal to Bellevue and thither she was taken last night.

She had drunk the cup of pleasure to the dregs. And only twenty-two.

FATAL BLOW DESCRIBED.

Witnesses Tell How Young Miller Was Killed.

Victor Baldwin, the Jamaica youth accused of having caused the death of young Ralph Miller while engaged in a prize fight with him at Richmond Hill, L. I., was arraigned with six other boys, witnesses of the affray, before Magistrate Conneron at Far Rockaway this morning. All were held to await the result of the coroner's inquest held at Jamaica this afternoon.

The dead boy was only nineteen years old. Baldwin is twenty-three. They were both members of the Hobson Athletic Club, which had a gymnasium in a barn at Richmond Hill.

The two boys were boxing one night last week. Miller was the better boxer and "rapped" Baldwin several times severely. Suddenly Baldwin delivered a full arm swing, landing back of Miller's right ear. It was this blow that killed Miller.

Four boyish witnesses told the story of Miller's death at the inquest. They were William Mulligan, of 58 Colchester avenue, Morris Park; Walter Dunn, of Bedford street, Morris Park; Eugene McHale, of 100th street, Richmond Hill; and Thomas Graft, of the same place.

They testified that the club was formed for the purpose of keeping the boys off the street and at their meetings in the barn they sketched out generally engaged in boxing. The club had been organized only ten days when the fatal blow occurred.

The first witness knew that anything was wrong when Miller reeled under a blow from Baldwin.

"By Jimmy!" That staggered me," he said. "You'd better take off the mitts then," said Baldwin, who began pulling off the gloves.

Miller leaped against a partition and slowly freed his left hand of the glove. He was about to undo the other one when he fell to the floor, striking his head against a soap box.

At this his frightened companions summoned Dr. Todd, who could not revive the injured lad. Then they ran away.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 12.—A woman who gave her name as Mrs. Elizabeth Carpenter, supposed to have lived in New York, died in the Episcopal Hospital last night from injuries received by falling out of a window of a lodging house.

The woman, who was middle-aged, well-dressed and of refined appearance, sought a room at No. 207 North Fourth street last Wednesday night. She was given a room on the third floor. Two hours later she was discovered lying unconscious in an alley under the third story window.

She was taken to the hospital, where it was found that she had sustained concussion of the brain. In her delirium she spoke of a happy home in New York and a little girl, Mabel, who had once been the light of her life.

As she grew weaker and weaker the nurses thought they heard her say: "Forgive me, Jim. It's been two years now, but perhaps we'll meet in Heaven." During a convalescent period the woman said she accidentally fell from the window, but this the police do not believe.

LEFT $7,860,000 TAX LEVY.

In the Supreme Court to-day Justice Bischoff denied the application made by the New York Central and Hudson River Railroad Company to have the Commissioners of Taxes and Assessments adjudged in contempt of Court.

On June 30 Justice Bischoff granted to the railroad company a writ of mandamus, ordering the Commissioners to strike from the assessment rolls their assessment of $7,860,000 against the New York Central and Hudson River Railroad Company. The Commissioners did not obey the writ and pleaded that they could not obey it because the tax rolls were with their jurisdiction having been turned over to the Municipal Assembly, as provided for in the charter.

Judge Lacombe Refused to Sign the Writ To-day.

Judge Lacombe, of the United States Circuit Court, this morning refused to sign the writ of extradition for Charles F. W. Neely, the Government employee who is wanted in Havana for fraud in connection with the Postal branch of the Administration.

Judge Lacombe's action was not a victory for Neely, but taken because of a citation filed to-day by Judge Wallace ordering the appearance before the Supreme Court of the United States, in Washington, on Sept. 7 of United States District Attorney Burnett and United States Marshal Penkel, the prosecutors in the case.

This proceeding is on an appeal of the Attorney for Neely, who seeks to have the order of the Circuit Court turning Neely over to the Havana authorities set aside.

3 LOST IN THE SQUALL.

Catboat Found Capsized—Two Men and a Woman Drowned?

Just after the squall yesterday afternoon, a catboat was found adrift, bottom up, just off the United States Volunteer Life-Saving Corps station, Fore Hamilton.

W. J. Wilson, Owen Hansen and Capt. Charles L. Huxon discovered her and investigated. The boat had floated down under the red dock at Ninety-third street before the life-savers reached her, and it was with great difficulty that they towed her out.

After eleven hours' work in high running seas they had her resting easy at the life-saving station.

The find was reported to the police, and it is said that two men and a woman were seen out in the boat just before the squall struck her.

The boat bears no name. She had a big hole stove in her side.

The life-savers patrolled the shore until 2 o'clock this morning, and up to that time no bodies had washed ashore.

The boat had no anchor and had the appearance of having been struck suddenly. With the high seas and terrible current in the Narrows her occupants would not have weathered it out.

SHE FELL TO DEATH.

Mrs. Carpenter, of This City, Met Accident in Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 12.—A woman who gave her name as Mrs. Elizabeth Carpenter, supposed to have lived in New York, died in the Episcopal Hospital last night from injuries received by falling out of a window of a lodging house.

The woman, who was middle-aged, well-dressed and of refined appearance, sought a room at No. 207 North Fourth street last Wednesday night. She was given a room on the third floor. Two hours later she was discovered lying unconscious in an alley under the third story window.

She was taken to the hospital, where it was found that she had sustained concussion of the brain. In her delirium she spoke of a happy home in New York and a little girl, Mabel, who had once been the light of her life.

As she grew weaker and weaker the nurses thought they heard her say: "Forgive me, Jim. It's been two years now, but perhaps we'll meet in Heaven." During a convalescent period the woman said she accidentally fell from the window, but this the police do not believe.

LEFT $7,860,000 TAX LEVY.

In the Supreme Court to-day Justice Bischoff denied the application made by the New York Central and Hudson River Railroad Company to have the Commissioners of Taxes and Assessments adjudged in contempt of Court.

On June 30 Justice Bischoff granted to the railroad company a writ of mandamus, ordering the Commissioners to strike from the assessment rolls their assessment of $7,860,000 against the New York Central and Hudson River Railroad Company. The Commissioners did not obey the writ and pleaded that they could not obey it because the tax rolls were with their jurisdiction having been turned over to the Municipal Assembly, as provided for in the charter.

Judge Lacombe Refused to Sign the Writ To-day.

Judge Lacombe, of the United States Circuit Court, this morning refused to sign the writ of extradition for Charles F. W. Neely, the Government employee who is wanted in Havana for fraud in connection with the Postal branch of the Administration.

Judge Lacombe's action was not a victory for Neely, but taken because of a citation filed to-day by Judge Wallace ordering the appearance before the Supreme Court of the United States, in Washington, on Sept. 7 of United States District Attorney Burnett and United States Marshal Penkel, the prosecutors in the case.

This proceeding is on an appeal of the Attorney for Neely, who seeks to have the order of the Circuit Court turning Neely over to the Havana authorities set aside.

SLEW KING'S CHAMPION

An Italian Who Reviled Bresci Stabbed by Anarchist.

For denouncing Assassin Bresci Joseph Stefano died yesterday by an anarchist's knife. While he reviled the slayer of the King, a athlete was plunged three times into his heart.

The police are scouring the trans-Harlem woods for the murderer, with little hope of tracking him. Stefano's brother, who alone knows him, will not tell his name. He says revenge for his brother's death is his own private business and he will not let the law interfere with it.

Joseph and Angelo Stefano and a third Italian came in from Croton Lake yesterday and caroused in a resort at One Hundred and Eighty-eighth street and Amsterdam avenue. They quarreled about the killing of the King. Joseph maintaining it was cowardly, the stranger maintaining that Bresci was a hero.

Joseph Stefano was shouting a loud maddening denunciation of Bresci and his admirers when he was stabbed in the left side. The assassin ran. No one thought to pursue him. Joseph was taken to the J. Hood Wright Hospital, where he died at 8 o'clock. Angelo Stefano was locked up as a witness.

"I will follow him until I find him," he says, "and kill him unless he kills me first."

ADVANCE ON RUSSIA?

LONDON, Aug. 12.—A news agency despatch from Lahore, Punjab, says the Amer of Afghanistan is mobilizing forces of infantry and artillery, and that it is reported an advance on the Russian frontier is contemplated. It is added that the news is not fully credited at Lahore, though it is explained the Amer's behavior has been raising some uneasiness in official circles.

Golf Cloths at 1/2 Price, (25 different styles). A special lot of 75 pieces Plaid Back Cloths, for shopping and rainy-day skirts, at $1.00 a yard, 54 and 56 inches wide, made to retail at $2.00 a yard.

Venetians, (12 different shades), 54 inches wide, for street and bicycle costumes, at 58 cts. a yard. Quality that retails at 75c. to 85c. a yard.

Lord & Taylor, Broadway & 20th St.

NEELY NOT EXTRADITED.

Judge Lacombe Refused to Sign the Writ To-day.

Judge Lacombe, of the United States Circuit Court, this morning refused to sign the writ of extradition for Charles F. W. Neely, the Government employee who is wanted in Havana for fraud in connection with the Postal branch of the Administration.

Judge Lacombe's action was not a victory for Neely, but taken because of a citation filed to-day by Judge Wallace ordering the appearance before the Supreme Court of the United States, in Washington, on Sept. 7 of United States District Attorney Burnett and United States Marshal Penkel, the prosecutors in the case.

This proceeding is on an appeal of the Attorney for Neely, who seeks to have the order of the Circuit Court turning Neely over to the Havana authorities set aside.

TRIPLETS—ALL BOYS!

Three Healthy Youngsters Born to Mrs. S. Hamilton, of Brooklyn.

There is joy in the house of Letter-Carrier R. Hamlin, 395 McDougall street, Brooklyn, over the advent of triplets, and flowers and letters of congratulation arrived to-day in big consignments. The three babies are all boys and arrived on Saturday at noon.

Their combined weight was fifteen pounds.

Dr. Walter S. Terhune, of 29 Reid avenue, Brooklyn, says they are all healthy infants and should grow and was strong unless something unforeseen happens.

The Hamiltons had one child, a girl, eighteen months ago. They wanted a boy and the fairies seem to have heard their wish.

DIED.

MURPHY—On Aug. 12, at 476 Grand street, CHARLES KENNEDY.

Funeral Tuesday at 2 P. M.

Stranger—Can you tell me how I can find a good boarding-house?

New Yorker—Cart! Try World Wants.

Stranger—Can you tell me how I can find a good boarding-house?

New Yorker—Cart! Try World Wants.